Martha's Monitor

Rep. Wilbur Mills (D-Ark.), chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, after a speech before the National Press Club last week dropped a hint that Martha Mitchell takes advice on her famous phone calls from her husband.

Asked if the talkative lady from Arkansas, wife of Attorney General John Mitchell ever calls him, Mills admitted that she does call him, but always in the daytime. He said he had never been subjected to her middle of the night chats.

"It's my understanding that John is rather selective about who she can call," said Mills.
